

Bikes Are Beautiful

We all know that bikes are here to stay as a sport. More importantly, bikes are now part of our move forward in missions.

- HWI collects, refurbishes, and resells old bikes. Local sales fund National and Global projects.
- Partnerships with other organizations enable HWI to provide bicycles to those in need, nationally and internationally.
- HWI builds prototypes including three-wheeled hand-pedaled tricycles for the disabled.

Join us in sharing this vision. The freedom bicycles have to offer is too often taken for granted.

"Go into all the world and proclaim the gospel" (Mark 16:15)

Nationally

In the United States, HWI provides transportation for international students, refugees, immigrants, missionaries, Christian workers, ex-offenders, the homeless, and the disabled.

"Without HWI my children wouldn't have the opportunity to learn to ride a bicycle while home on furlough."

- A Missionary to Mexico

Internationally

"Missionary bikes" are serving educators in Angola, and seminary students near Egbe, Nigeria. Three-wheeled hand-pedaled tricycles are providing dignified mobility to polio survivors in Jos, Nigeria. HWI also provides tool kits and shipping consultation.

"A pastor can now better carry out his ministry to people with handicaps and other conditions that force them into a life of begging and living on the streets."

Tracy Goen, MD, Missionary to Nigeria
